PREFACE.

AFTER many Months diligent Search into the Editions of the ſeveral Law Books, in the Year 1731, I publiſh'd Bibliotheca Legum: And therein endeavoured to oblige the Publick in impartially deſcribing the various Dates and Prices of every Book of Value, and taking Notice, where any former Editions were deficient or varied; this being never before attempted, and the Method I printed it in, as new, gave me a pleaſing Hope, it would be both Uſeful and Acceptable; therefore why Mr T. W. of the Temple Cloyſters, ſhould publiſh his Catalogue in my Form, and in ſeveral Places Print even Faults and all I can't conceive? The Variation he has made in leaving out the Marginal Heads on the Left Hand, the Chriſtian Names of the Authors, and diſplacing the Alphabetical Order under each Letter, has rob'd the Catalogue of its Chief Uſe, and given the Reader much Trouble, merely becauſe it ſhould not be Line for Line like mine.

I took my Account from the Books themſelves, whereas I have Reaſon to ſuſpect Mr T. W. took his Account from my Catalogue.

I have for the Eaſe of the Reader, altered the Method of this Catalogue, and added a more exact Table of the Cotemporary Reporters, an Alphabetical Index of the Authors Name or Title of each Book; and often incerted both therein.

I have alſo corrected the Prices, and added ſome Books omitted, and thoſe publiſh'd ſince the former Edition of this Catalogue; and where a new Title only has added one Edition more to a Book, it is taken Notice of, it being an Impoſition on Gentlemen, and an Injury to the Trade in General.

The Obſervations I have made are True, and as the Publick have been ſo indulgent to Encourage my Endeavours, I doubt not, they will ſtill Prefer that Catalogue, which by its Merit beſt deſerves it.

Bell-Yard, near Lincoln's-Inn. } JOHN WORRALL.
